Introducing Avium – the complete grounds maintenance experts

Dolby International

The finest care your grounds can get

Backed by 45 years of horticultural experience

When you choose Avium to manage your grounds, you can be sure they're in good hands. All projects are personally overseen by the company's founder and horticultural specialist, Luke Whiteside.

Grounds maintenance specialists on your doorstep

You know the importance of creating a good first impression, and the need for your grounds and premises to look professional and well presented.

But keeping your grounds tidy, weed-free, and in good repair takes time and specialist knowledge. That's where Avium's skills and expertise can help.

Avium is part of a local long-established horticultural company, providing a personal and professional expert service to many of the area's largest companies.

From landscape maintenance and grass cutting, to litter and graffiti removal, Avium makes sure your site lives up to your company's reputation, no matter what the season.

"We've had a good working relationship with Avium for some time now. They keep a regular diary, keep appearing and keep control of our grounds. They are a reliable supplier – which is what we need."

Kevin Bolger, Skurray's Swindon

Luke will give you expert advice on suitable replacement plants, shrubs, and trees, as well as maintaining your existing plant stock.

Ongoing Monitoring and Reporting

All Avium crews complete a 'Maintenance Visit Record' after each visit. This outlines all the work carried out and lists any herbicides used on site, ensuring your health and safety records are always up-to-date.

To ensure your grounds are in tip-top condition all year round, Avium can conduct 6-monthly site reviews at no extra charge. These identify the work needed during the forthcoming months, helping maintain and improve your site's appearance and preserving your professional reputation. Avium's horticultural expert will advise you on all aspects of replanting, replacement of old shrubs, and other essential maintenance such as pruning and tree surgery.

"Avium do all our landscaping and grounds maintenance, including specialist plantings, very efficiently. They give us excellent advice and provide particular attention to safety – which is so important in a school environment. They are reliable, adaptable and we've never had any problems."

Kerry Hartman, Administration and Finance Officer
Ashbury Primary School

"I'm delighted with the service Avium provide. They look after the hotel grounds very well with good attention to detail and a prompt response to any problems. Their service is second to none."

David Morgan, Holiday Inn Express

Avium's straightforward approach

Because Avium believes in delivering a high standard of service, all its clients have written and agreed contracts. For your protection, and in the unlikely event you are not satisfied with the company's performance, you don't have to be tied-in to any long-term agreements or contracts. What's more, if your grounds only need some one-off attention rather than on-going care, Avium can be called in as and when you need them.

Site and buildings maintenance

External maintenance extends beyond well-manicured lawns and tended plants. If the rest of your site isn't maintained, you won't give that all-important good first impression.

For example, litter or a build-up of hazardous algae and moss on paths and walkways is unsightly. As well as horticultural works, Avium has the skills and expertise to undertake many of your external repairs and site maintenance, including litter clearance, jet washing, and signage upkeep.
